4. Research Interests and Completed Research

Projects (selected)

My research interests mainly include: S&T policy and development strategy (including S&T system, S&T investment policy, and S&T program establishment and management), research policy and priority setting, innovation and the national system of innovation, research evaluation and research foresight.

I had been acting as executive vice editor-in-chief of the journal S&T policy and development strategy (Chinese) from 2001 to 2012, and for many years I had been co-responsible for organizing the annual science development report commissioned by the Chinese Academy of Sciences. Other research projects of which I was PI or Co-principal investigator include the following(selected):

- "a comparative study on research priority setting in several industrialized nations" and "tracking research on basic science policy and basic science development" under the auspices of National Natural Science Foundation of China

- "US basic research" under the auspices of Bureau of Basic Research, Ministry of Science and Technology of China

- "Research on S&T awarding system in foreign countries" and "international comparison of research funding systems in typical countries" under the auspices of Bureau of Comprehensive Planning, the Chinese Academy of Sciences

- "Research on S&T related issues which the main international agencies (UNESCO, WB, OECD, EU, ICSU, et al.) follow with interest", "world S&T: current situation and future trends", "frontiers in high-technology research", "constant tracking and regular reporting on latest S&T policy and development trends", "research on management & operation mechanism of national research organizations", and "study on establishing and management of national S&T program" under the auspices of Bureau of Planning & Strategy, the Chinese Academy of Sciences
