

Wei Feng: Female, doctoral degree, researcher, doctoral supervisor. She is currently a member of the Fourth Committee of the Chinese Academy of Sciences Youth League and a member of the China National Standardization Technical Committee (SAC/TC194/SC3). Mainly engaged in policy, standards, patents and other information management, data mining, analysis methods, tools research and application work. In 2005, She received her Ph.D. from Huazhong University of Science and Technology. In 2011, She was selected as an excellent talent selection project in the literature and information field of the Chinese Academy of Sciences. She is currently the executive editor of the 《Standardized Information Monitoring Express》 published by the Chinese Academy of Sciences and the executive editor of the 《Special Project of the Chinese Academy of Sciences》. In recent years, she has undertaken and participated mainly in dozens of strategic information research work: the National Natural Science Foundation of China, the China-EU International Cooperation Project (NSEC), the National Development and Reform Commission China Clean Development Mechanism Fund (CDM), the Chinese Academy of Sciences Standard Information Research Project, the Chinese Academy of Sciences shale gas pilot special information support sub-project, the Chinese Academy of Sciences Dozens of strategic intelligence research work, such as the oil and gas resources roadmap project, the State Grid Corporation Science and Technology Project, and the China Huaneng Power Company research project. She has published more than 60 related papers in academic journals at home and abroad.

Email: weif@mail.whlib.ac.cn.